This is a teaching unit on the book One-Eyed Cat by Paula Fox. In this unit there are four sections to each chapter lesson that I have made to give helpful tips in order to use this book in the classroom. The four sections are vocabulary, questions, extended questions, and activity.

In using the vocabulary section I would advise you to encourage the students to look the words up as they read them in the story. This will get them into that good habit of looking words up that they don’t know while they are reading. Then have them write the words down along with the meanings. I have enclosed crossword puzzles that use the vocabulary words for each chapter lesson to help the students learn the words better while having some fun. Another suggestion would be to make flash cards out of the vocabulary words so the students can go through them like that. To make that fun you could make the flash cards in the shape of a gun, a cat, or any other prominent item that is found in this book. You could also make a vocabulary game out of the flash cards similar to a spelling bee.

In using the question sections, you can either give those to the students and have them write out their questions, or you could give them orally to the students and have them talk about them together to verbalize their answers.

The extended question sections were made to take the questions written about the story and apply them to the student’s daily life, and to put them in similar situations. This section is intended to help students carefully read things critically, and to compare them to the Bible to see if they are beneficial or not. These can be used as discussion questions to start the class off, or they can be used for discussion any time during the class. Please, make sure the student gets the correct Biblical idea from each extended question so the student does not go away with a misconception about what the Bible says.

The activity section is used to give the student an extra project to do that is connected with the book to pick up on some of the side points. It may help in understanding a character, the setting, a relationship, or a picture. Use these, or better yet come up with activities on your own that make this story come alive for the students.

This book unit is intended for upper grade students in the 7th and 8th grade levels. Feel free to add, subtract, or change any material in this unit. Make the book alive and fun for the students, and give them a proper understanding of this book in light of what our Savior Jesus Christ has done for us on the cross.

3. Who is Mrs. Scallop and what is she like?
4. What is wrong with Ned’s mother?
5. Who do you think is the main character in the story?
6. What do you think this statement means, “It was the time he’d been happy and hadn’t known it. When he was happy now, he would remind himself he was. He would say, At this moment I’m happy, and that was different from simply being a certain way and not having to give it a name.”*
7. Who comes to visit Ned and his family?
8. How does Ned feel when this visitor comes to visit and why does Ned feel this way?

*Extension Questions

- Ned had a hard time staying awake in church. Is it good to fall asleep in church? What should Ned have been doing? What should you do in church and why do you go to church?
- Ned says that the worst thing you could do is not to tell someone why you are angry. Do you agree or disagree? Explain.
6. Have there been times in your life when you have been happy and you hadn’t noticed it. Tell about it? Have there been times in your life when you have been happy and you had to tell yourself you were happy? Tell about it.

Activity

Draw what you think the church looked like based on the description in the book and by using your imagination.

2. Describe Ned’s relationship with his mother.*
3. What does Ned’s mother mean when she says, “Then the ax fell.”?
4. Why does Ned think it was best for Uncle Hilary’s visit to be brief?
5. Why doesn’t Ned’s father like the present Uncle Hilary gave to Ned? Do you think it has anything to do with Ned’s father being a pastor?
6. Explain what Ned means when he said, “The painful thing was that, though Ned didn’t always trust his father, his father trusted him, and that seemed to him unfair, although he couldn’t explain why it was so.”*
7. Was it good for Ned to take the gun out at night and shoot it just once so he could stop thinking about it and do what his father said, “Take your mind away from it”?*
8. Do you think Ned will get into trouble for shooting the gun?
9. Who was the face in the window? Do you think it was a real face or was Ned just seeing things?

*Extension Questions

2. Compare and contrast his relationship with her to your relationship with your own mother.
6. Give an example from your life if this is true that your parents trusted you, but you didn’t necessarily trust your parents. Do you think this type of attitude is good?
7. Is there anything that you were told not to have or use by your parents, but you did anyway? After thinking about what happened to you do you think it was right?

Activity

Pretend you are in Ned’s shoes and you thought you saw someone looking at you through the window. What would you do to find out who was looking at you? What questions would you ask and who would you ask?
